

Murder Mystery Events and Evenings

Screams ring out through the air and the room quickly falls into silence...

We would like to invite you to unforgettable, fun-filled hours of theatrical comedy where our actors will re-enact one of a series of unsolved cases, mysteriously all having taken place in or around the small town of Melchester.

The evening begins with a fifteen-minute reconstruction of the events leading up to and just after the murder. After which each group/table will be given the chance to grill the suspects individually. During this time various items of 'evidence' may come to light – evidence that will, of course, be released to the budding 'detectives' by the DCI in charge of the case.

Once the questioning has been completed, each group/table has the opportunity to ask just one more final question to a suspect of their choice but beware as the rest of the 'detectives' will be able to listen in.

Time's up and it's down to the Super Sleuths and Sherlock Holmes wannabes to crack the murder mystery and bring the murder(s) to justice. Each individual has the opportunity to complete a 'who dunnit' form and offer their own personal theory on who the murderer(s) is, how they carried out their crime and what their motive was.

Finally, once all the forms have been collected in, the truth is revealed!
